

EDGESOFT, INC. ACCEPTS 2012 CHAMPION OF DIVERSITY AWARD AT MILLENNIUM MOMENTUM FOUNDATION CELEBRATION
Government Software Company is Celebrated for Devotion to Diversity

Edgesoft, Inc. was the proud recipient of the 2012 Champion of Diversity Award at the Millennium Momentum Foundation's 10th Anniversary Celebration on November 16 at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion. The Culver City-based technology company was honored for its commitment to ensuring that local governments have the information technology resources to meet the needs of diverse communities. Edgesoft's Enterprise Land Management System (eLMS™) tracks and automates activities within Permits & Inspections, Fire Prevention, Business Licensing, Public Works, and more for cities across a variety of sizes and financial resources.

Shan Sundar, Edgesoft Founder and CEO, accepted the award on behalf of the company at the gala event. The Champion of Diversity Award is a highlight in Edgesoft's longstanding commitment to empowering public leaders from all communities to build bridges between departments, enhance efficiency, and connect with their citizens.

"We are proud that regardless of a city's profile, from Beverly Hills to San Fernando, public officials are able to make the lives of their citizens better with Edgesoft's software."

About Edgesoft, Inc.

EdgeSoft, Inc.'s Enterprise Land Management System (eLMS™) offers local governments a fully-automated, one-touch, cross-department solution to land management. Ten modules track and automate activities within Permits & Inspections, Fire Prevention, Code Enforcement, Planning, Business Licensing, Public Works, Request for Services, Online Citizen Access / e-Gov, Parking, and Business Taxation.

eLMS™ enables departments to communicate like never before. A single-point-of-entry system, information entered by one department, such as address or permit status, is viewable to all departments. Duplicate data entry is eliminated and resources are maximized.

About Millennium Momentum Foundation, Inc.
